

Julie Boyer: Teach, Train, Inspire and Live Life to its Fullest!

As a Network Marketing Professional, Julie specializes in Leadership Development, Mentoring, Personal Growth and Prosperity. Julie Boyer currently owns an international business with Agel Enterprises, doing business in over a dozen countries. She is also a three-time Ironman Triathlete, most recently completing Ironman Arizona in April 2008. Julie has been inspiring people to achieve their dreams for the past seven years.

Julie is fluent in English and French, and holds a degree in Kinesiology from McMaster University. Following university, she spent six years working with leading blue-chip companies. After living overseas for several years, Julie returned to Canada in 2006 to follow her dreams of building her own business.

In 2006, she started her own business with a top nutritional research company, where she gained expert knowledge about the benefits of low glycemic eating and healthy nutritional supplementation. Julie shared her expertise in health and wellness by running seminars at The Running Room, Contours Express, Boehringer Ingelheim Canada, and many other groups and organizations in the GTA. Most recently, Julie has been conducting seminars and presentations on Networking with Excellence to various networking groups from Niagara to Mississauga. An accomplished Toastmaster, Julie will be participating in the International Speech Competition in the spring of 2010. Julie also volunteers with the Canadian Diabetes Association and is a member of Team Diabetes Canada.

Her mission is to lead a life full of passion and purpose, to rise above mediocrity, to achieve greatness and to personally inspire others to find greatness in themselves.

Testimonials:

Julie, thanks so much for the excellent presentation. We appreciated the information and the delivery was perfect. You did a great job reading the audience and engaging the group. It was so thoughtful of you to have the books ready for our members to purchase. It's nice to see a speaker that doesn't just talk the talk ...you walk the walk! Thanks again!

Julie came to our bi-monthly networking group to do a 10 minute presentation about effective ways to network. Her presentation itself was engaging and thought-provoking. She involved attendees, and demonstrated her suggestions through direct interaction with members of our group. After her presentation officially ended is when the magic truly began, however. Members had been paying rapt attention and had many questions for Julie. She answered all questions fully, confidently, and easily. In addition, she continued to interact with more members, while remembering their names, businesses and details about their lives they had mentioned in passing. It was such a pleasure to have Julie as a guest speaker, and it was one of the most successful sessions we have held since I have been a member.
